

TECNORIB INTRODUCES THE FIRST TWO PIRELLI 42 MODELS WITH OUTBOARD ENGINES

TecnoRib introduced the first two PIRELLI 42 inflatable boats with outboard engines today and 14 May. Delivery is expected shortly together with two more of the same model intended for the Australian market. As the official licensee of PIRELLI brand inflatables, TecnoRib has resumed its business at full speed, in view of an arriving summer in which inflatable boats could prove the ideal vehicles for serene and responsible holidays.

The success of the PIRELLI 42 inflatable boat continues: the walk-around was introduced for the first time worldwide at the beginning of the year at the Düsseldorf Motor Show. Confirming that the production of the Milanese shipyard has resumed its activity at full speed, the first two models of PIRELLI 42 with outboard engine were introduced just a few days ago. The version with triple 300 HP Mercury propulsion was launched on 14 May, while the version with two 450 HP Racing engines launched today. Two more 13-metre units designed by Ted Mannerfelt will also be delivered in the coming weeks. The first mounts a pair of 400 HP engines, while the second will have a triple 300 HP engine. A special feature of the outboard version is the open deck layout at the stern, which offers a more sporty and aggressive design at the expense of an area with a sun deck.

After a few weeks of closure, TecnoRib is now ready to face a season that could very productive. The managing director commented, "With uncertainty as regards the use of beaches this coming summer, the dinghy may perhaps be the ideal way to freely enjoy the sea. We have not had cancellations of orders: we are working at full speed and in full compliance with government regulations to guarantee maximum serenity to all persons involved, and with the intention of continuing to create an excellent product".

Designed by the Swedish designer Ted Mannerfelt, who emphasized its sporty spirit by following the aesthetic codes of previous models of the brand, PIRELLI 42 is the latest development introduced by the Rescaldina shipyard, and has garnered great success and interest since its launch. All of the models in the series feature a large focus on relaxation areas, ease of driving, and high performance (above 45 knots). These are ideal characteristics for safely organizing holidays amongst
