Pirelli 1900 Tecnorib: not everything is as it seems

Not everything is as it seems: Pirelli 1900 Tecnorib is a supermaxi with surface propellers and a black hardtop made of carbon. If you are expecting an extreme RIB, you are wrong. It's designed for cruising with the family and for easy, problem-free travel

by Niccolò Volpati

The world has changed and even the Cannes boat show is no longer what it was. You used to find numerous sailing boats moored one next to the other. However, for the last few years maxi ribs have dominated the scene. At the most recent show, the most eye-catching example was certainly the Pirelli 1900 Tecnorib . The figures are rather impressive: 18.5 metres long, over 5 metres wide and two 800 hp engines, each with surface propellers.
